2013 Annual Report

(unaudited)

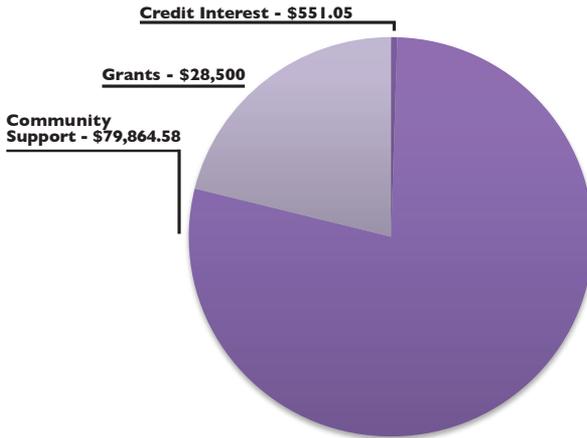

It seems rather a bit of a marvel that Today House has been open for over a year. A year seems to go by so fast when one's life is full of comfort. I wonder if those experiencing homelessness feel life racing by like I do. The last year and the community we have built at Today House have shown me the importance of stable housing, food security and the impact they have on our lives. I believe that if an individual does not know when their next warm meal will be and where they will sleep on any given night, life must feel like it is standing still, even unraveling. Undoubtedly, there are many moments of angst and isolation.

As Today House continues to operate 7 days a week, I would like to thank those who have helped us achieve this goal. The incredible support we've received has made me realize how very grateful I am to be part of a community that cares about the vulnerable in our midst. My hope is that as we continue to offer a warm meal and a bed for emergency use to those in need, that awareness to the plight of the marginalized will increase and that together we will end homelessness in Steinbach.

With great optimism, I hope what Today House does, why it matters, and the huge difference it can make to people's lives will encourage more individuals to reach out and join us in offering that extra care to those who need it when their life seems to be unraveling.
